

Dare to take risks for God and for humanity

Our creative fidelity

St. Louis of Montfort, while telling us, "You are small, they are great ..." (ACM 2), does not lack audacity and also tells us, "Put all your trust in him through Mary" (ACM 4).

In the center of the logo is a cross. Graphically it is the smallest but from it, through the work of the Spirit, arrows "depart" which, creatively, go to the ends of the world (circle). The power of the cross - scandalous and insignificant in the eyes of the world - is the only one that can generate creative fidelity.

The logo includes many colors that represent the continents and our missionary charism. The arrows are a symbol of the race of the Spirit, at whose pace we are called to live.

The creative dimension and the "outgoing" dynamic are represented by the different directions and paths traveled by the arrows that always narrate the work that God has accomplished in and through Mary.
